

South Dakota Health Education Standards and Assessment II - Searchable Database/Web-based Assessment

Schedule: August 1-2, 2007, 8:00 – 4:00 p.m. each day

Location: Georgia Morse Middle School, 309 East Capitol, Pierre, SD 57501

Prerequisite: South Dakota Health Education Standards and Assessment I or Health for the Elementary Teacher through Black Hills State University

Credit Information: Pending approval, the South Dakota Health Education Standards and Assessment II – Searchable Database/Web-based Assessment training will be offered for one graduate credit through Black Hills State University for $66.05 or for one Renewal Credit through the Department of Education.

Target Audience: We are looking for strong candidates to be a part of this pilot training. Only 15 participants will be accepted. Are you an educator interested in:

- receiving incredible resources to assist you in planning and teaching your health classes;
- becoming skilled at creating tests using a 2000-item Database, and/or the Web-based Assessment System;
- using the HEAP (Health Education Assessment Project) Searchable Database and Web-based Assessment System a minimum of three times during the 2007-2008 school year?

Course Objectives: The training is designed to give teachers specific knowledge, skills, competencies and techniques in using assessment as motivation for learning as well as assessment of learning. This will be done through:

- ✓ Receiving hands-on experience using the HEAP Searchable Database CD and the Web-based Assessment System to create, administer, and interpret assessments;
- ✓ Review of the South Dakota Health Education Standards;
- ✓ Continued reinforcement of Bloom's Revised Taxonomy;
- ✓ In-depth follow-up to Teaching With The End In Mind;
- ✓ Best Practices in writing assessment items;
- ✓ Using the Formative Assessment process with these combined strategies;
- ✓ Reinforcing techniques of designing/implementing standards-based lessons;
- ✓ Use of the HEAP (Health Education Assessment Project) assessment framework as a guide for health education instruction.

Accommodations: A block of rooms has been reserved at the Days Inn; 520 Sioux Ave, Pierre, SD 57501; 605-224-0411. Participants are responsible for making their own reservations and for the room charges. State rates are available. Lunch will be provided on-site each day.

Materials: Participants will receive a binder containing all of the material being covered in the South Dakota Health Education Standards and Assessment II training; the Searchable Database CD of the HEAP Assessment Items and a copy of Assessment Tools for School Health Education.
